

Reading a Narrative

Students are required to read two different pieces of narrative writing.

Dialogue

- Presents a conversation between two or more people

Real Life Narrative

- An account of a significant time in an individual's life

Tips for Reading a Narrative:

- Underline, or use a highlighter, to make note of important information
- Read the questions before reading the narrative. This way you will have an idea of what information you will be looking for