

Long Lake Public School

Long Lake Public School is in my mind, one of the best smaller schools in Sudbury. I grew up in Long Lake and the school was certainly a big part of the community. I attended the School, along with all of my brothers and sisters. The school was a setting for many activities such as school tee's, brownies, club meetings, and dances for children. Both of my children went there and enjoyed the closeness of the school and how other parents and my husband and myself were very involved with re-greening, recycling, fundraising, and special events, field trips, skating at the rink and skiing behind the school. The school promoted healthy eating, and exercising, which my children both do. The teachers were great influences on my children. They both feel very welcome when returning for visits to the school. My son is graduation t his year from University Of Toronto, and my daughter is attending Cambrian College. The school instilled good work habits and values. Not only for school, but for everyday life.
