

Aboriginal Support Worker

Promotes a welcoming environment for First Nation, Métis and Inuit students and their families

Supports student, family and school connections

Facilitates student transitions

Works within the framework of the Seven Grandfather's Teachings

Promotes regular school attendance, credit accumulation and participation in school life

Rainbow Schools

Reaching minds. Touching hearts.

Laretta Miller-Dokis is the Aboriginal Support Worker at Lively District Secondary School and Chelmsford Valley District Composite School. Laretta is of Ojibway descent and lives at Atikameksheng Anishnawbek. She studied at Cambrian College in the Child and Youth Worker Program and at Laurentian University in the Law and Justice program. Laretta has worked with youth for the past 14 years and enjoys spending time with her children and family, camping and playing softball in the summer.

“Education provides our youth with the knowledge, skills and values for today’s society. With support, guidance and understanding, our youth will acquire the self-esteem and education to be role models for future generations.”

Laretta can be reached at millerl@rainbowschools.ca

www.rainbowschools.ca